

TREASURY DEFICIT GROWING APACE

Increases Nearly $4,000,000 in Month of May.

NO HOPE OF A SURPLUS NOW

Expected Treasury Will Be Short More
Than $37,000,000 at End of Fiscal Year.

Treasury officials are somewhat disappointed over the failure of the receipts during the month of May to measure up to expectations.

Along about May 1, when the deficit was bordering on the $4,000,000, it was fully believed the receipts during the month would leave a comfortable surplus, reducing the deficit to the extent of $3,000,000 or $2,000,000. It was also thought the expenditures could be reduced.

However, in both expectations the Treasury officials have been disappointed. The ordinary expenditures have been greater than they were in May, 1904, and the receipts have not been near as fruitful as expected. Instead of showing a surplus during May there has been a deficit of $3,772,723 for the month, and with but two more days in which to work there is little hope of the deficit being reduced below $37,000,000.

Size of the Shortage.
At the close of office hours yesterday the deficit was $37,461,251, a considerable increase during the week.

The question now being propounded by Treasury officials is whether the receipts during June will be sufficient to reduce the deficit anywhere near the mark predicted. A month or so ago, despite the steadily increasing deficit, expert financial students in the Treasury Department confidently predicted that the deficit for the fiscal year would not be above $20,000,000. It is doubtful if a single well-informed official in the Treasury still adheres to this opinion.

Base Hopes on June.
Last year the month of June showed a surplus of $10,000,000. This year Treasury officials were banking on a nice surplus in May, but this expectation has not materialized. The customs receipts are not showing up near so well as calculated, and it is quite probable the month of June will not measure up to the figures estimated by the experts.

At best, the receipts during the coming month cannot be expected to show a surplus greater than $10,000,000, which would leave a deficit for the fiscal year of $27,000,000, which is the mark set by many outside financial students.

DARLING AT THE PHONE.

She had promised to come down town and go to luncheon with him and about noon she opened his office door. Her husband's voice at the phone made her stop to listen.

"That you, darling?" he was saying. "Yes, my wife's coming down today, so we can't have that spread. But we'll have it tomorrow. Meet me at the usual place, you know. Yes, all right. Good-bye."

She slipped quietly away, and although he waited until 3 o'clock his little wife did not come to go to luncheon with him.

By the time he got home that night she had fought it out with herself, and determined to have an explanation. So she said as calmly as she could:

"George, do you usually go out alone to your lunch?"

"Why, yes," he answered. "That is unless Darling goes with me."

"Darling," she cried. "For pity's sake, George, who is—?"

"Why, Jack Darling. You must remember hearing me speak of him. Don't you know?"

She got up and it was several minutes before he could check her sob and get her to explain why she had broken her appointment. —New York Press.

SPRING-DAY WISH OF THE CLASS

Bishop Goodman (impressively)—Only think children! In Africa there are 10,000,000 square miles of territory without a single Sunday school where little boys and girls can spend their Sundays. Now, what should we all try and save up our money and do?

Class (in ecstatic union)—Go to Africa! —Judge.

QUITE AN ENJOYABLE AFFAIR.

Mamma—Did you have a good time at Dorothy's party, Harold?

Harold—I should say I did—great! Mamma—What little girls did you dance with?

Harold—Aw, I didn't dance none. But at supper I had two plates of ice cream and grapes. —Cleveland Leader.

INDIANA VOLUNTEERS WILL HONOR MEMORY OF MAN WHO LED THEM IN THE SIXTIES

THE MONUMENT

WILL DEDICATE SHAFT TO GENERAL MACAULEY

Ceremonies to Take Place at Arlington Cemetery on Decoration Day—Comrades of the Late Military Leader Will Participate.

The surviving members of the Eleventh Regiment, Indiana Volunteers, in the civil war, will dedicate a monument erected over the grave of the late Gen. Daniel Macauley at Arlington Cemetery next Tuesday at 2 o'clock, or as soon as the services of the Grand Army of the Republic are over.

The committee having charge of the arrangements is composed of George Butler, Thomas C. Purcell, Charles M. Robinson, George Simmons and J. P. McGraw.

Gen. Daniel Macauley was born in New York city on the 8th of September, 1839, and was educated in the public schools of Buffalo, N. Y. He displayed a fondness for military affairs, and was a member of the Vind Guards of that city. He lived in Buffalo until 1859, when he went to Indianapolis, Ind., to live.

Joined the Zouaves.

There he also became interested in military matters and at the time of the outbreak of the war he was a member of the Zouaves. When the call for volunteers was issued he enlisted as a private in Company E, Eleventh Indiana Volunteers, and on the organization of the company he was elected first lieutenant, and on the organization of the regiment he was appointed adjutant by Col. Lew Wallace, commanding. He was promoted to lieutenant colonel and colonel, General Macauley was badly wounded twice, once at the battle of Champions' Hill, May 16, 1863, and again at the battle of Cedar Creek, October 19, 1864, in Sheridan's campaign in Shenandoah Valley, carrying the ball in his body up to the time of his death.

He was mustered out of the service as colonel of the Eleventh Regiment July 28, 1865.

At the age of twenty-four he was breveted brigadier general for gallant services at the battle of Cedar Creek, March 19, 1865, on recommendation of Generals Grant and Sheridan.

At the close of the war General Macauley returned to Indianapolis and engaged in the book binding business, and in 1868, at the age of twenty-eight, he was elected mayor of the city and was re-elected for two subsequent terms.

After his term of service as mayor expired General Macauley led a life full of changes. He was superintendent of the Indianapolis Waterworks at one time, then he was manager of the Academy of Music of that city. In 1882 he became interested in mining in Mexico. Returning from Mexico he became interested in the hotel business in Columbus, Ohio, and later he managed the Geddes House, in New York city. In 1877 he went to Nicaragua as representative of the Nicaragua Canal Company.

General Macauley resided in Washington during the Harrison Administration, having been appointed by the President appointment clerk of the Treasury Department.

Died in Nicaragua.

The secretaryship of the canal commission was the last position General Macauley ever held, as he went to Nicaragua on official duties in April of 1894 and died in July of the same year. His fever contracted in that country for five years, such being the time prescribed by law. In 1899 his remains were brought to the United States by the United States Government and turned over to the Lafayette Post, G. A. R., which organization brought the remains to Washington, and had them interred in Arlington Cemetery.

The order of the dedicating services is as follows:

Music, Marine Band; introductory, C. M. Robinson; invocation, Rev. H. S. Stevens; music, "Flowers of Peace," Burnside Post Glee Club; poem (original), Col. John A. Joyce; address, Gen. John C. Black; music, "Boys of the Old Brigade," Glee Club; poem (original), "She Only Saw Brother," Miss Helen Burke; music (selection), Mrs. Dayville Taylor Welch; benediction, Rev. George W. Dudley; taps, bugler United States Army.

NEW MINISTER HERE.

Dr. Mendoza, the new Minister from Colombia to the United States, has arrived in Washington, and will be received at the White House on Monday afternoon by the President.

GEN. DANIEL MACAULEY

SAW THE SOLDIERS OFF TO THE WAR OF 1812

Mrs. Harris Also Rode to Brownsville on Horseback to Get View of Lafayette.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 27.—Mrs. Esther Harris' one hundredth birthday will be celebrated at her home by kinfolk from all over the country. Mrs. Harris lives with her only child, Jacob Harris, about six miles from Uniontown, and only a few miles from her birthplace. She is the second one of her family (the Johnsons) to reach the century mark, her cousin, Elias Johnson, of Mt. Union, O., being the other.

"Early to bed and early to rise has been my rule throughout my life," said Mrs. Harris. "I have been careful with my diet, too, and it has been my rule never to eat much at supper time. All the meat and heavy food I eat at breakfast and at the noon meal. I have never used tobacco. My life has been full of hard work, but it was good for me. I still insist on making my own bed and cleaning up the room and helping all I can with the housework."

"This is the first birthday I have consented to have celebrated. I will receive my relatives sitting in the chair which I occupy every day and which my mother used before me. It is an old-fashioned split-bottom chair, solidly built, and I prize it very highly. When I die I will leave it to my son and his children."

"I can remember well when the soldiers went off to the war of 1812. I was then seven years old. It was just eighty years ago today that General Lafayette visited Fayette county. I rode horseback to Brownsville to see him."

Mrs. Harris has one son and eight grandchildren. Relatives are here from California, Ohio, Illinois, New Jersey, and other States.

PROPHET ELIJAH II PLANS MEXICAN EDEN

Dowie Would Tunnel Extinct Volcanoes for Water for 2,000,000 Acres of Territory—No Mules or Hogs Allowed.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 27.—John Alexander Dowie will secure water to irrigate the 2,000,000 acres of land which he has arranged to purchase in the State of Tamaulipas by tunneling into four extinct volcanoes.

The volcanoes are within the boundaries of the tract, and are full of water. Engineers believe that an inexhaustible supply of water will be secured from subterranean sources.

Dowie has agreed to pay $2 Mexican currency per acre, or a total of $4,000,000. He will establish seven cities as well as several agricultural settlements.

The Mexican colony will be known as "Eden," so that there may be no confusion with the parent colony in the United States.

Dowie announces that mules and hogs will not be allowed within the boundaries of the Mexican tract, and that an attempt will be made to exterminate the fleas and mosquitoes.

CAR SHEDS MOVED ON CAPITOL GROUNDS

The old passenger railway station that has stood on the House side of the Capitol grounds for a great many years has been removed to the Senate side of the grounds at the terminus of the electric car line in the grounds. The shed that was on the Senate side has been removed to Delaware avenue and B street to be used as a station for the Avenue cars. The shed on the House side was of no value as a waiting station, as it was too far from the car line. The House side shed being larger than the one on the Senate side it was removed there where there are a greater number of passengers.

SON OF THE PRESIDENT WILL ALSO HUNT BEARS

Theodore, Jr., to Spend Portion of the Summer in the Sierras Pursuing Big Game.

FRESNO, Cal., May 27.—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., is going to hunt bears, catch trout, and see the big mountains this summer. He has been invited to spend the summer in the Sierras with Stewart Edward White, author of "The Elusive Trail," and yesterday sent word here that the invitation had been accepted.

The author has a lodge at North Fork, on the San Joaquin river. The lodge will be headquarters from which expeditions of many kinds will be taken, some into the Yosemite and some to the tops of mountains that none but sturdy mountaineers will attempt to climb.

Young Mr. Roosevelt will arrive at North Fork on July 1 and will remain in the Sierras for ten weeks.

THIS NEVER HAPPENED.
"How do you like my new hat, Henry?"

"It's really a dream, my love."

"And, Henry, the price was only $46!"

"No, no, my dear, you never got a hat like that for such a paltry sum!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

AS CLASSIFIED.

WALTHAM WATCHES.

How a WALTHAM WATCH set England's time.

26 Ormiston Road, Westcombe Park,
London, S. E.
England, 10-2-'97.

American Waltham Watch Co.,
Waltham, Mass., U. S. A.

GENTLEMEN: About three years since, acting on the advice of a friend who had had one of your watches for about eighteen years, I purchased a Lever Waltham Watch. I am happy to say it has turned out a marvel of accuracy, and under the circumstances I feel I am only doing my duty in bringing this fact to your notice.

But perhaps its most unique performance, and the one of which I am especially proud, is the fact that by its aid I was able to detect an error in the fall of the time-ball at the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, which gives the standard time to the civilized world. It happened as follows: I make a practice of watching the fall of the time-ball each day at one o'clock p. m., whenever the air is clear enough, and one day, to my surprise, I found the ball had dropped some few seconds before I had expected it to. I had such confidence in my watch that I did not believe it was at fault, and felt sure that some mistake had been made at the Observatory. On telling some of my friends of my convictions, I was simply laughed at for my impudence in daring to pit my Waltham watch against the accuracy of the Royal Observatory. However, to set the matter at rest, I wrote to the Astronomer Royal, telling him of my conviction, and asking him if he would let me know whether I was right or wrong. In return I received a courteous reply from the Astronomer Royal, stating that I was quite right, and that on the day named, owing to an accident, the ball was dropped about eighteen seconds too soon. This seems to me such a remarkable proof of the reliability of your watches that I feel justified in bringing it to your notice. If you would care to have the Astronomer Royal's letter as a memento, I should be pleased to hear from you to that effect. Wishing every success and prosperity to your deservedly world-famed Company, I remain,

Yours very sincerely,
THOMAS WHEATE.

The reply from the Astronomer Royal.

Royal Observatory, Greenwich,
London, S. E.
1894, March 10.

DEAR SIR: In answer to your letter of yesterday the Astronomer Royal requests me to inform you that on Thursday last the time-ball was, through an accident, dropped about eighteen seconds before one o'clock.

T. Wheate, Esq.

Yours truly,
H. P. HOLLIS.
